What is "Fresno No. 1"? The only "Fancy Free" in the market.

The Colored Republican Club will meet this evening at headquarters on J street.

The week of warm sunshine has about ended the last of the rains in the county.

At the sample ballots have been delivered in the past office, and many have been delivered.

W. H. Law and G. H. Campbell were fined $5 each by Recorder Clark yesterday for disturbing the peace.

A child badly killed with ink, scalded with a pencil, torn, or in any way marked, will not be counted. Be very careful.

This office is under obligation to Miss F. E. McNeil for a fine bouquet of chrysanthemums, grown in her yard on South J street.

Early yesterday morning the police made a raid on the toilet rooms, but failed to find any victims. All the vases and flowers have been driven from the city through the determined efforts of the police, who have made several raids already.

W. F. Gould has filed a foreclosure suit against G. H. Malters, to collect $7000 on a promissory note given in 1885, and secured by a deed of trust on a portion of the lot on which the southeast quarter, section 6, township 14, range 21, the winery stands on this land.

A small fire in the show window of Miss Ryan's millinery store on J street called out the fire department last evening. The fire was put out by citizens before it arrived. A little girl was about to light the gas in the window and as she struck the match the flame caught in the curtain. The loss was small.

GOUCHER AND GRADY

ADDRESS A MEETING AT ARMORY HALL.

Local Politics Touched Lightly—The A.P.A. Scored—Corporations.

Jim Budd Scandal.

The Democratic meeting at Armory hall last night was announced to be in the interest of the local candidates; but not one word was said of any local man, unless W. W. Phillips may be so regarded, and unless the short talk by N. L. F. Bachman may be considered as a lift for himself. Mr. Grady spoke on monopolies, and Senator Goucher devoted his remarks to a roasting of the A. P. A., and to an exposition, or at least an apology for James H. Budd, in his trouble.

When the meeting was called to order there were sixty-five persons in the gallery and 118 on the floor; but others came in until the house contained more people than enthusiasm.

N. L. F. Bachman, who was introduced as a candidate for the senate, was the first speaker, and he informed the audience that he had just returned from Madera county, and had found that many of the old discredited Democrats in that county were being incited to work reform fast enough, and had left the party, are beginning to return to the Democratic fold, and abandon the Populist platform.

He urged the voters to go to the polls as they would go into the jury box, and vote for the best man, regardless of party. "If you want old back," said he, "vote for him. If not, vote for the other man, and not the only good man in the field."

W. D. Grady then came forward and began his address by saying that the Jim Budd club had sent him to the speaker on the subject of railroad abuses. He promised not to abuse anybody in particular, because he believed the masses of the Republican party were as true and honest as any other party. Just then found occasion to say that the party all the bad legislation for nearly thirty years. The chief point was that the Southern Pacific had been protected in its tyranny upon the people and nothing but the continued support of Democrats in power can bring relief.

Then, after giving a history of the Central Pacific and Union Pacific railroads, the speaker began to pull out of his pocket a bundle of papers covered with figures. He looked like a book of portable blackboards, and he said he wanted to read some figures. He usually did not read these papers, and he would laboriously through millions and millions of dollars and thousands of thousands of acres of land. The array of figures would have made a Populist stump speaker stare and gasp. Observing that people were beginning to leave the hall, Mr. Grady threw down some of his papers, remarking that figures are tiresome, but it is sometimes necessary to refer to them.

Then the practice of the railroad in bribing legislators, "buying and selling" them like sheep at an auction, was roundly scored, and he quoted facts to show that unlimited tyranny is practiced by the Southern Pacific upon the people of California.

This was a new introduction to the subject of the railroad commission, and led to the mention of W. W. Phillips, the only Fresno county candidate mentioned in the meeting. He urged the people to support Phillips, and said he was sorry that the support would not be more nearly unanimous.

"People go round the city saying they will not vote for W. W. Phillips," continued the speaker. "They say he is too stingy. For heaven's sake, don't want a stingy man for railroad commissioner, one who can deal with the corporation which has stolen $400,000 from the people? Some say they will not vote for him because he has made them pay their debts. Others will not support him because he refused to loan them money."

Mr. Grady occupied the remainder of his time showing the "tyranny" of railroad rates in this valley.

Senator Goucher followed, and said the outlook was discouraging, not because any Democrats were weakening in their attitude in their adherence to the principles of the party, but because "the party is broke," as he said. He spoke with regret of the financial depression resting upon the party in this county, and said there were no money in the bank, no rent halls, or so much as to hire a messenger to go a block away. He said there are no corporations nor wealthy companies supporting the Democratic candidates this year, and he added again, "It is discouraging, indeed."

"There is another cause for discouragement," said the Senator, and as he spoke there was a perceptible hithering in his valley. "It is the fact that Dr. M. M. Chapman, chairman of the county central committee, and when other prominent Democrats came to me and told me that it is useless to attack the A. P. A., as it may lose votes. I want to say that the whole Democratic party has not enough backbone to fight, in a case like this, let it go to pieces."

He then roundly denounced the A. P. A., but made no special mention of this county in that connection.

Then something more than a passing notice was given to the Oregon scandal on James H. Budd. The speaker said that many of the church people say that if one-half of the report is true, Budd should not be elected governor. "But," continued he, "Jesus Christ, the founder of Christianity, taught that we should forgive the erring. Besides, sixteen years have passed since the offense is said to have been committed. It is not sixteen years of honest life enough to erase that stain."

Senator Goucher regretted that the Democratic and Republican meetings had been set for the same night, and that the Republicans were not to blame, nor the Democrats. It was a mistake, he said the local campaign had been exceptionally free from unpleasantness. The meeting adjourned at 10 o'clock.

NEW WHEAT RATE.

A Saving to the Grain Growers of This Valley.

Owing to the continued low price of wheat the Southern Pacific railroad has decided upon a reduction in freight rates on that grain, to take effect not later than January 1st. The agents have been notified of the proposed change. The old rate per ton and the new from Fresno to various points are found below:

Port	Old rate	New rate
Port Costa	3.45	2.35
Stockton	3.60	2.48
Sacramento	3.60	2.48
Oakland wharf	3.10	3.00
San Francisco	4.18	3.50

"A German Soldier."

The two political meetings of last night prevented a heavy attendance at the Marion opera house, which is not to be regretted, as the company and the play presented, to be charitable in criticism, do not bring in the usual standard of productions seen at the Marion this season.

Limberger and Sauer Kraut at Blackler's.

Heating stoves, new styles and cheap. Donahoe, Emmons & Co.

FRESNO CHESS CLUB.

The New Quarters Opened With a Large Membership.

The Fresno Chess and Checker Club opened in good style at the new quarters, rooms 38 and 40 in the Park building, last night. The committee had completed the work of carpeting and furnishing the rooms, and twelve tables were at the disposal of the players. All the tables were occupied, and the games were watched with great interest by a number of bystanders. Thirty-five members signed the roll.

The longest game was between Peeler and Baker, with a Ray Lopez opening. It lasted an hour. The shortest was between J. M. Johnson and J. E. Nicholson, the opening being a King's gambit accepted. There were three drawn games in the evening's play.

Following is a summary of the results of the games:

J. M. Johnson won two games out of three from A. Rao Brown, lost two games to Baker, and one to J. E. Nicholson.

J. M. Collier played a draw with W. E. Eden, King's bishop opening.

J. P. Meux and Dr. J. L. Maupin played three games, of which Meux won two and Maupin one.

Judge Nourse and J. P. Meux played a well-contested game, the Judge adopting Philidor's defense, but without success.

H. H. Hotelling won two games from A. J. Wiener.

W. M. Williams won three games from J. W. Shaukin and lost two to the same player.

Dr. Baker and R. L. Peeler played two games, of which Peeler won two.

J. D. Morgan, George Crogrove and J. W. Shaukin engaged in several checker games, most of which resulted in draws.

Attend the candidates' meeting at Kutner hall this evening.

UNADULTERATED DEMAGOGY

A New Ball Thrown Out to Catch Suckers.

The following little circular has been thrown broadcast by the Populists, and is a sample of what demagoguery can run to when it once becomes the ruling principle of a party or faction. It needs no comments, as an intelligent public can make their own comments upon it. It is as follows:

"On motion of E. S. Van Meter, the People's Party county central committee passed the following resolution at their meeting held in Fresno October 22:

"Whereas, The citizens of our county are in danger of being deceived by the demagoguery of the Populist party, and

"Whereas, Banking corporations are allowed by law to close their bank doors and go into liquidation, thereby securing to them delay and time in which to pay to their depositors and creditors without sacrificing property held by them under forced sales, while they at the same time are permitted to collect the debts due to them by process of law; and

"Whereas, Many of the houses of our best citizens will be lost by foreclosure proceedings unless the privileges are extended to them by law similar to the privileges extended to strong banking corporations; be it therefore

Resolved, That it is the sense of this committee that our candidates for the assembly and senate shall be pledged if elected to use their earnest endeavors to accomplish the passage of laws which will definitely preserve the rights of the creditor, but relieving the burden of the oppressed people until the severity of the present financial stringency shall be relieved."

"J. T. Fowler, J. H. Glesner and J. W. Rouse, People's Party candidates for the state senate and assembly, being present concurred in the above resolution."

LETTER FROM OLEANDER.

The News of a Personal and Local Nature.

The rain season is about done with for this year.

J. D. Galloway, candidate for coroner, returned last Friday from a trip in the hills.

Eugene Hatch is in Oleander at present.

Mrs. William Mitchell has about recovered from a severe illness.

The Oleander cricket made a fine show when playing. Dick Goolley carried the championship.

There will be a prohibition meeting at Oleander next Saturday night.

The Oleander Ladies of the Templars are going to give a grand entertainment here pretty soon.

The girls are glad to see Robert Graham back again.

E. Wilson, son of the Oleander merchant, looks quite manly with his mustache.

Oleander, October 31, 1894.

HIGH SCHOOL SENATE.

Meeting of the Debating Society Last Night.

The high school senate met last night with President McCormick presiding. The name of J. W. Meux was proposed as a candidate for membership. The following resolution was taken up as the debate of the evening:

Resolved, That the veto power of the President of the United States should be eliminated.

The leading speakers for the resolution were Ingram of Maine, North of Washington, Burns of West Virginia; those opposed, Best of Louisiana, Hamilton of Massachusetts, and Foster of Tennessee. The resolution was lost.

CHANGES HAVE COME.

The Selma Enterprise Compares Past and Present.

The Selma Enterprise takes the Selma Irrigator to task for an article in the latter which said that a certain Democratic candidate, mentioned by name, represents law and order, and his Republican opponent represents lawlessness and disorder. The Enterprise comments on it as follows:

That is to say, Democracy is civilization and order, and Republicanism is lawlessness and disorder. But a little further along in the same article we are informed that "a few years ago the rougher element of our citizens held the reins of government and all forms of vice were allowed full sway."
